

Tao Zhan

System of Chinese national mediation: new method of solving medical disputes

The article deals with a new model of solving disputes in health care sphere in China – a mediation one. The institutional component – operation of a Mediation committee on medical disputes is elucidated. The principles of operation, mechanisms and procedures of a Committee as well as pros of this model are highlighted in the article.

Key words: mediation, medical dispute, Mediation committee on medical disputes, physician, patient.